Board To Study Police

An Arlington resident this week asked the Board of Selectmen to establish "an impartial committee which would be empowered to analyze police records and discuss the attitude of the Police Department with local merchants and other Town citizens."

The letter, listing various complaints which date back to 1955, was sent to each member of the Board of Selectmen and the Town Manager.

The letter said:
Chairman,
Board of Selectmen
Town Hall
Arlington, Mass.

"Dear Sir,
"I have been living in Arlington, where I own two parcels of real estate and pay taxes in the amount of approximately $1,100/yr. for ten years.

"To date, my associations with the local police department have included:

"a. A summons into court for a no sticker violation after being stopped almost in front of my home when I lived on Lake Street. I lost a half-day's pay and paid a $5.00 fine for this infraction. Subsequently, I reported the arresting officer to Mr. Monahan for flagrant traffic violations himself on Mass. Avenue. Mr. Monahan informed me by letter that the police officer admitted the violations and had been reprimanded—I doubt that he appeared in court as I did—Mr. Monahan further thanked me for being a good citizen by calling this to his attention.

"b. A few years ago my brother-in-law from Milton, while visiting us to see the children in a Saint Agnes' May Procession, was insulted by a traffic officer in the vicinity of the Center. One of the local police officers yelled at the top of his voice "Hey stupid get going". The brother-in-law was proceeding slowly trying to figure out the maze of traffic instructions posted on numerous signs—posts for which I understand the Town Manager is now trying to standardize. The brother-in-law incidentally is a college graduate and a successful insurance salesman. His recent promotion to Captain in the Army Reserve do not support the stupidity claim of the local police.

DOUBLE RUNNERS—Thousands of Arlington youngsters had their day on Arlington's many skating areas over the weekend. At North Union Street, two sets of twins were caught by the photographer. In the center are the Constantino twins, Nancy and Maria of River street. On the ends are the Geswell twins, Joan and Jean of Fremont ct.

Three graders, belonging to outside contractors engaged by the Town for plowing during last week's storm, were pulled from the road by the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

It was said that the three graders were not properly registered.

One grader is owned by the T. R. Rawson Construction Company and two are owned by Builders Equipment.

Officials of both companies said that, by law, a vehicle which does not travel more than 12 miles per hour does not need to be registered.

Graders, according to one official do not travel in excess of 12 m.p.h.

Rather than dispute the matter, both firms immediately registered the graders and the equipment returned to work.

Thieves Gain Nothing
In Two Breaks Here

Two local firms were broken into this week but suffered no losses, according to Arlington police.

On Monday, Peter Barnaby of the Arlington Motor Sales at 874 Massachusetts ave., reported that someone had broken into his place of business over the weekend.

Police Chief Albert E. Ryan said entrance was gained by climbing a fence and climbing through a rear window. Nothing appeared to be taken.

Sunday morning, a break was reported at Bayburn Cleaners, One Broadway. Once again nothing was stolen although there was evidence that the safe had been tampered with.

Four Percent Pay IncreaseTax Collections
Reach New High

Town Treasurer Francis A. Coughlin, has informed the Advocate that ALL 1956 and prior Real Estate, Personal Property and Poll Taxes, had been settled before the close of business on December 31, 1957.

Coughlin further reported that the balance of 1957 taxes in those categories, outstanding on the same date, was only $104,124.42 out of the $5,410,378.30 committed to him by the Board of Assessors during the year.

This is a collection percentage over 98.1 per cent—the highest in recent years.

In Coughlin's opinion, "This improvement—in the face of recent so-called 'tight money' trends—by Arlington citizens in their consistent record of prompt payment of taxes, will enable the continued marketing of Town issues of municipal bonds and notes at a very favorable interest rate."

Brothers Meet Here
After 43 Years Apart

An Arlington business man was reunited with his brother after a 43 year separation this week.

Daniel Danielian, Proprietor of Danielson's Market, had not seen his brother Vagarshay, since the latter was two years old.

This week, Vagarshay came to this country from Lebanon for a medical check-up and the brothers spent a joyful week together.

Boy Slips Into Brook

A six year-old Gorham st., boy who fell into Mill Brook Tuesday escaped with nothing more serious than a thorough soaking.

He is Kenneth Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Jenkins.

The boy was attempting to cross Mill Brook at Brattle st., by stepping on the rocks. He slipped into the water and neighbors called police.

Patrolman George Alexie found the boy standing on a rock and helped him to shore.

The Personnel Board will recommend a four percent across-the-board increase for all Town Employees at the annual Town Meeting, it was announced this week.

It is thought that approximately $78,000 would be the total cost of the pay boosts, if passed by the Town Meeting.

The employees themselves have asked for a $500 increase.

The Personnel Board has already had one meeting with the Finance Committee and will meet again this week.

The feeling of the Finance Committee on the raise recommendation is not known at this time. Chairman Arthur D. Saul, Jr., could not be contacted as the Advocate went to press.

The official release of the Personnel Board said:

"The Personnel Board is recommending a cost of living increase of $178.00 or 4 per cent, whichever is greater, for the salaried employees of the Town, and $3.40 or 4 per cent for the weekly employees, effective April 1, 1958.

"Thorough analysis and study of all the contributing factors affecting pay of town employees reveals that:

"1. Annual average cost of living has risen from 116.7 to 121.5 from 1956 to 1957, according to the Massachusetts State Index, an increase of 4.8 points, or 4.1 per cent.

Coasting Areas
Asked By Board

More coasting areas for Arlington's children may be in the offing.

Selectmen Joseph P. Greeley suggested three areas as possible potential coasting sites at Monday's Board meeting.

Greeley suggested that coasting areas be created behind the Junior High West through the woods near Gray st., at Menotomy Rocks Park, and at Hill's Hill at Washington and Summer st.

The matter was referred to the Town Manager for study.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE will meet with the Selectmen Monday at 7 p.m. to go over the Selectmen's budget.

Interest Hits New High At Arlington Boys Club

The year 1957 saw 1,514 boys and young men enroll as dues paying members of the Arlington Boys' Club.

Interest reached a new high in all parts of the diversified program, as the members of the staff emphasized the increased opportunity given the individual boy in each and every department.

George Faulkner, executive director, said.

New innovations to the program are the printing classes, the enlargement of the Day Camp Program, the outdoor skating rink, the Christmas workshop and the additional operating hours of all arts and crafts program. "It would be an injustice," said Faulkner, "to highlight any portion of the program or individual members of the club, as great strides forward have been made by the members and by each department."

Sustained interest has been shown by all service and group clubs of Arlington. The sincere cooperation received from all municipal departments of the town is most appreciated by all who are associated with this organization," he said.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM GEORGE SMELLIE
(Jeanette Louisa Rackliffe)

American beauty red and white flowers decorated the First Baptist church for the wedding of Jeanette Louisa Rackliffe, daughter of Mrs. Phyllis M. Rackliffe of 70 Allen st., to William George Smellie, son of Mrs. Ethel G. Smellie and the late William G. Smellie of Cambridge recently.

The afternoon ceremony was performed by Dr. Robert C. Senior, an Uncle of the bride, and Dr. Francis Thompson.

Given in marriage by another Uncle, Harold L. Senior, the bride wore a gown of rose point lace over white taffeta with a chapel-length train. Her veil fell from a crown of pearls, and she carried a white satin fan of small white orchids.

Mrs. Charlotte M. Kelly, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore red velvet and carried a puff of American beauty rose buds and white chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids, Sally Fiorenza, Patricia Coughlin, and Elizabeth Sagovich, were also dressed in red velvet. They carried puffs of white mums.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rackliffe wore a gown of midnight blue velvet with a chiffon stole and a white orchid corsage with a fushia tip.

Mrs. Smellie was dressed in mink brown taffeta. She wore an emerald green hat and a green orchid corsage.

Robert Ball was organist for the ceremony, and the soloist was Carl Wallquist.

Martha Smellie, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book.

The wedding reception was held at the Belmont Women's Club.

A graduate of Arlington High school and Hickock Secretarial school, the bride is employed by Estabrook and co. Mr. Smellie is a graduate of Arlington High school and is a recording statistician.

The couple will live in Cambridge.

Whose Show?

After last week's storm, there has been a general furore, pro and con, as to the snow removal operation by the Town.

Obviously, the job has not measured up to past performances. Yet, on the other hand, past performances cost the taxpayer thousands upon thousands of dollars.

Facing a sharp increase in the tax rate for 1958, we lack the Town Manager in a bit of austerity in this year's first snow storm. However, we back him only to the degree to which he can demonstrate this year's policy saved over the wasteful policy (in our opinion) of the past three years under which even a small pile of snow apparently was deposited there by the Devil not the Almighty.

And—whatever happened to that old ordinance of years ago which allowed a policeman to ring your doorbell and say, "Please (a firm "please") shovel out the sidewalk in front of your house."

Today, we taxpayers expect the Town to shovel the sidewalks in front of our homes, churches, business centers and schools; pick up our leaves in the fall, plant the grass strip in front in the spring, dig out the weeds in the summer, cut up and dispose of Christmas trees, cut down trees which are to big or which are in the way, shovel off and flood skating areas, collect four barrels of rubbish instead of the one when we never threw much away in hard times, pick up several thousands tons of garbage instead of several hundred—all at no extra cost!

On the one hand, we blast the taxpayer for his excessive demands.

Now on the other, let us not forget that the Town's departments love these demands! They mean more help needed, more equipment, greater overtime.

In government, the department head who requires more and more employees, more and more equipment to be responsible for, more and more jobs to handle—get's paid more. And so do his "aunts and cousins by the dozens," meaning his assistants and their assistants and their assistants and their staff.

To save takes cooperation on all sides. How can a Town official even think about saving, when he is beset continually by exorbitant demands? How can the taxpayer save when he tolerates receiving "services" which he knows are costly and which should be performed by himself?

An Overheard Conversation

We have come to the positive conclusion that the subject of the local tax rate is like that of the weather—everybody talks about it but nobody does anything about it!

Just the other day we overheard two housewives talking while making some purchases. The conversation went like this:

Mrs. Short: Things are so expensive and that tax rate!

Mrs. Tall: Isn't awful? The tax rate is about 60 dollars, isn't it?

Mrs. Short: Not quite that much but darn near it. And they say it is going even higher, and aren't the assessments terrible?

Ladies, for your information, edification and per- usement, the tax rate is not even close to sixty dollars! The tax rate for 1957 was $70.40. That is nearly ten dollars more than your guess. Further, the tax rate for 1958 is not just going "up"—which may mean fifty cents or a dollar or two. It is going "up" by six or seven dollars, as we see it!

As to assessments, the subject can be argued until long after dark.

The law says that the Assessors "shall" assess property at its fair market value. Thus, if a house sold for $25,000, that is what it should be assessed for; by law.

In actual practice, boards of assessors in this Commonwealth interpret the law to mean that the fair market value should be used as "a basis" for the assessment.

Assessors have learned through experience that the selling price of identical houses on the same street (or in the same development area) may vary by as much as $1500 in the fourteen to eighteen thousand dollar class, as much as $5,000 in thirty to forty thousand class.

Obviously, the law needs some interpretation—just as judges do in every case, criminal or civil, brought before them. Law without the warmth of human blood can never stand alone.

So, to inform Mrs. Short and Mrs. Tall, after checking we find that the local Board of Assessors is assessing property at about 40 per cent of what it believes to be a "fair value".

To the average housewife the words "per cent" means little. Maybe the following will be helpful:—

Look your house over carefully. Then estimate what you would sell it for if you were forced to move, taking into full consideration what you paid for it and also, what improvements you have made over the years.

Next, subtract several hundred dollars for those cracks in ceiling, the rickety back steps, the peeling paint which you have long ceased to see but which hits the prospective buyer in the face.

After coming to this rock-bottom price, take your last year's assessment and multiply it by two and one half

That Man About Town

By MAI

We note here the resignation of long-time Town Meeting member, Clarence F. Hill. The final speech of Member Hill at the Special Meeting in the fall will long be remembered, particularly at the Advocate!

So, we were wrong in guessing that incumbent and present chairman of the Board of Assessors, William O. Hauser, would get a "free ride" in the annual election in March. He is being challenged by Walter Shaw of 78 Thorndike st., who took out papers last week.

Shaw, who is listed in the True List of Persons as a salesman, has lived here since 1937.

Victoria Craig has decided not to run for Selectman. Her pull-out statement is reported to be: "guess I'll leave it to all those men." Yes, there are plenty of them—Harris (incumbent), Brosnan, Hughes, Buckley and Saul.

Incidentally, to our readers we wish to emphasize the point that "taking out nomination papers" merely indicates one thing, only—a serious intention to run for office. First, the papers have to be signed by the number required by law. Second, these signatures must be found valid (And, here several candidates have slipped up in recent years). Third, even after filing the nomination papers on the deadline day, the candidate has one week to withdraw, if he so desires, and his name will not appear on the ballot.

Another point, often forgotten, is that a candidate who desires utmost secrecy may obtain a set of nomination papers from the office of Secretary of State on Beacon Hill rather than the Town Clerk here. So there could be other candidates at any given time. However, word gets around pretty fast once the papers get circulated.

A sly trick, sometimes resorted to, is for a candidate to merely fill in his name at the top of the paper and leave blank the office for which he is running. Later, he fills it in when he decides which spot is most open.

Nothing in the law requires a candidate to declare which office he is running for when asking for a set of papers. On the other hand, when signing, a registered voter is nominating a particular person for a particular office. So, if you are signing a paper, be sure the name and the office are filled in.

Some people make another mistake. They believe anyone has the "right to run" so they sign any and all papers. While it is true that there is the "right to run", the signer is "nominating" and you can only nominate one person if there is only a single seat being contested. If two spots are open, you may only sign two sets of papers and so on.

Pay Increase—

Historically Arlington has recognized increased cost of living as a basis for increasing comparably the pay of Town employees.

"2 The School Committee plans to increase pay of clerical employees $312.00 annually in 1958. This increase is in addition to the 4 per cent granted these employees in 1957. The amount of $312.00 is approximately a 9 per cent increase if applied to Senior Clerks working for the Town other than under the jurisdiction of the School Committee.

"3. A poll of town executives of nearby towns indicates plans on their part to recommend increases for their town employees of from 4 per cent to 8 per cent. Arlington has always taken into consideration competition for employees as a factor in the pay plan, with a view toward being neither the highest nor the lowest. The 4 per cent recommended should maintain Arlington's status in the middle as to employee pay, and also maintain a fair standard of living for Town employees.

"4. While town jobs cannot be compared directly to comparable positions in industry because of additional security and fringe benefits granted town employees, the gap is rapidly closing, and annual increases to industrial employees must be considered. All indicators point to increased industrial pay in 1958—many of them automatic from cost of living escalator clauses in union agreements or long term (3 or more years) agreements.

HITS PLOWING

To the Editor:

I would like to know when the people of Arlington are going to wake up and see what is going on in this Town.

Take the past snow storm. It was really a poor job of plowing the streets and practically no sanding was done.

Yet, Town officials have the courage to hire other trucks, supposedly to plow and cart away snow. Many go around the Town with their blades up and other trucks just stand idle waiting to be filled with snow. And even then, snow was removed in many places which are not important.

At this writing, there is a spot in Arlington Center (meadow) where snow has not been removed. Broadway is just being cleared.

And then the people wonder where the money goes. It, the money, will definitely go if the people don't do something about it.

John A. Todisco

times. Now compare this figure with your willing selling price. They should balance theoretically.

Thus, if your property, ladies, is assessed for $5,000, would you sell it for $12,500, or if assessed for $8,000, sell it for $20,000?

Is that assessment too high?

TO THE POPULACE:

Progress is a wonderful thing. Three hundred years ago, the Indians spent the winters without comforts of any kind. Now, we all have heat, lights, gas, telephones, excise taxes, automobile insurance, income tax, Christmas bills, stalled cars, and numerous other symbols of advanced living.

Study Police—

cross Mass. Avenue on the way to church with the children on a Sunday morning. The walk signal changed while she was halfway across the street. My wife was not only embarrassed for her own sake but more so for the sake of the children whom we are raising to respect law and order. This came as no surprise to me as everyone knows that the only interest of the police on Mass. Avenue is to keep traffic moving and police the parking meters. They have no consideration for the local residents or merchants on the Avenue.

"In my letter to Mr. Monahan of 5 April 1955, I stated that the local police department was victimizing the local residents. Subsequent discussions I have had with local merchants on Mass. Avenue—a shoe store, fruit store, hardware and others both in East Arlington and the Center, relative to the positive policy of policing parking meters, plus the ever increasing appearance of empty stores have convinced me that I am still right.

"A description of my most recent experience with the Arlington Police Dept. follows:

"On 7 January (Tuesday) at approximately 7:00 p.m., my wife telephoned the police station to advise them that I was unable to get my car up the hill on Bartlett Avenue because of the snow storm; of necessity then the car would be parked on the street overnight. The police officer at the desk said that these conditions were expected because of the storm—the car would probably not be tagged but that the Public Works Dept. might tow the car away (where I don't know).

"As I started for work the next morning my car of course had been tagged—as had numerous others in the vicinity who could not make the hill. The tag, Form No. M-12948, reads in part—"Officer—has turned in a duplicate report and you are requested to report at once with this card to the Police Station. This does not mean to report by telephone, nor does it mean to mail it. Come yourself, otherwise a summons will be issued"—I imagine this is how people are picked up in Russia.

"At 8:15 a.m. the morning of 8 January (Wednesday) I telephoned the station and explained the situation. I was advised that because of the law the officer at the desk could not give anyone permission to park on the street overnight and that I must bring in the ticket personally so that it could be filed to prevent further police action.

"This is lovely since I will only have about a mile walk in the snow from the police station to my home. I believe that such police action is stupid and unnecessary.

"It is an inconvenience not only to me and other residents who were tagged but to the police department itself unless this is all it has to do.

"Other embarrassing police department incidents come to my mind at this writing that I do not feel necessary to discuss at this time; however, I would be pleased to discuss them with you at your convenience.

"Apparently the time has come for somebody in authority to pound some sense into the heads of people who are responsible for the attitude of the local police department.

"The next time I am bothered, or my family or friends who are visiting me are insulted without cause by the local police, I will write you again summarizing all of my experiences with the police. I will send copies of this letter to local and Boston newspapers. The Registrar of Motor Vehicles and to anyone else who I believe will help combat the gestapo tactics of the local police.

"I spent 37 months in a Motor Torpedo Boat Squadron fighting during WWII throughout the Solomon Islands and the Philippines to help preserve the four freedoms and I am no longer going to sit down and let the Arlington Police Department jeopardize any of these.

"In conclusion it is recommended that you establish an impartial committee who would be empowered to analyze police records and discuss the attitude of the Police Dept. with local merchants and other Town citizens to determine if they also are being victimized."

Gov. Foster Furcolo has sent a special message to the legislature to change the law governing the Massachusetts Port Authority with emphasis placed on state veto power over actions of the board. He said that he was inclined to reappoint all members of the Authority if the legislature passed a reorganization bill.

POLICE—The Committee on Cities has approved legislation authorizing the City of Boston to construct a police academy on Moon Island which would be available for instruction for police personnel from the Greater Boston area.

FARES—Governor Foster Furcolo refrained from making any comment on the recent fare increases granted the New Haven Railroad and while admitting that fare boosts might affect any political campaign. He pointed out that letters from South Shore users of the railroad indicated a desire to retain passenger service even if fare increases were needed.

HOME—Legislation which would have the city of Boston convey land at Jamaica Pond to serve as a new site for the Shirley Eustis mansion was ok'd by the committee on cities and it is estimated the cost of moving would run about $300,000.

CONVENTION—The constitutional convention suggested by Governor Foster Furcolo in his annual message to the legislature would be devoted to issues such as a four year term for the Governor and for a graduated income tax, the Governor told newsmen adding that such a convention should settle issues rather than serve as a debating society.

COMMITTEES—Rep. John E. Sheldon (R) of Milton has been named by House Speaker John F. Thompson (D) to serve on the legislative committee on Metropolitan Affairs replacing his own colleague from the same district—Rep. Ralph W. Cartwright, Jr. (R) of Randolph who has been named to the Ways and Means Committee. Rep. Charles Jannello (D) of Boston was named to the commission studying Blue-Cross-Blue Shield operations to succeed Rep. Gerald P. Lombard (D) of Fitchburg. Rep. Armand N. Tancrati (D) of Springfield was named to the committee on Taxation and Rep. James R. Lawton (D) of Brockton has been named to the committee on Bills in Third Reading.

REFINANCING—Governor Foster Furcolo has told newsmen that when he presents his budget message to the legislature he will call for refinancing of state obligations along the lines suggested in a recent report by a financial advisory committee. He may also suggest a state withholding tax law to be written.

How spiritual understanding of God, divine Life, increases happiness and longevity will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" will include the following (Proverbs 3:13,16): "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding... Length of days is in her right hand; and in her left hand riches and honour."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (487:27): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality." The Golden Text is from Psalms (27:1): "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?"

Hurwitz To Lecture At Library

Leslie Hurwitz, director of the Keyboard and Theory Departments of the Arlington Academy of Music, will present the first of a series of free lecture-demonstrations on musical subjects on Thursday evening, January 23, in the Junior Library Hall at Robbins Library.

Hurwitz will give a comparison of Brahms' and Rachmaninoff's music as exemplified by these composers' variations on a Theme by Paganini.

He will also discuss program music, using Richard Strauss' "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks" as an example. He will illustrate his talk by recorded excerpts from these compositions.

The lecture inaugurates a series of eight similar programs to be sponsored by the Music - Arts Department of Robbins Library, and presented throughout 1958 at approximately six-week intervals.

In each of these lectures, Hurwitz will discuss some interesting phase of music, illustrating his talk with recorded examples.

The lectures are free and open to the public.

Hurwitz is a noted concert pianist who has played in some of the leading concert halls of the world.

He is also very popular as a lecturer and teacher.
